PRINCIPAL HORN - GIUSEPPE VERDI
THEATER OF TRIESTE

---

Nilo Caracristi was born in Trento and studied at the Conservatory of his hometown under the guidance of Jiri Sedlak. Later studied with Guido Corti in Italy, Dale Clevenger in the U.S.A., and Froydis Ree Wekre in Norway.

In 1996, he was invited as the first horn for the symphonic season in the Orchestra of the Teatro Lirico of Cagliari, first horn of the "San Carlo" theater of Naples from 1997 to 1999, fourth horn in the Arena Orchestra of Verona from 1999 to 2005. Since 2010, Caracristi has been the first horn of the "Giuseppe Verdi" Theater of Trieste.

As a member of the Gomalan Brass Quintet, Caracristi won the International Brass Ensemble Competition in Passau (Germany). The Quintet has performed in Europe, Asia, U.S., and South America. The group has recorded with such labels as Summit Records, Naxos, Amadeus, and Sony BMG.

He currently teaches horn at the "E.F. Dell'Abaco" conservatory in Verona.
